The News.

We hear from Washington that the Senate Committee on Territories, by their Chairman, Mr. GREEN, have reported the bill to force the Lecompton Swindle upon the People of Kansas. Messrs. DOUGLAS and COLLAMER dissented, presenting minority reports. Mr. GREEN gave notice that he should hurry up the bill as soon as possible.

The Army bill was discussed, and an important amendment carried, by a close vote. The success of the bill is still in doubt.

The Select Committee appointed by the House of Representatives, to inquire into the frauds on Kansas, have thus far refused to do their duty; the majority being Lecomptonites and averse to exposing the atrocity of that swindle.

A large Democratic Anti-Lecompton meeting was held in N. Y., on Wednesday evening. GEO. BANCROFT presided, and Ex-Governor STANTON spoke at length in denunciation of the villainy.

A destructive fire in New York, on the night of the 17th, consumed nearly $300,000 worth of property.

We have reports of further troubles in Kansas, all growing out of the Administration's persevering attempt to make the people of that Territory submit to the Lecompton yoke.

Our Legislature transacted a variety of business yesterday, and had another turn at the investigating Committee. The argument before the Supreme Court on the Habeas Corpus case of Messrs. FALVEY and KILBOURN, was concluded yesterday. The decision is expected to be announced on Saturday. Ex-Governor BARSTOW having given bonds to appear before the Investigating Committee on the 10th of March, was yesterday discharged from custody.

The New York Produce Market yesterday was more active at an advance, and the Money Market "flooded," at 4 to 6 per cent. It is to be hoped that this "flood" will extend West.

Weather wintry, yesterday, with frequent flurries of snow. There is now a good depth on the ground, and capital sleighing.

From the Utah Expedition.

There is really no later news from the Utah army or the Salt Lake Valley by the Star of the West. There are numerous reports, as contradictory as reports can well be, but the latest of these, subsequently proved to be a hoax, is only to the 7th of December, professedly brought by a Mr. Pearson via Carson Valley and Sacramento City. It is alleged that the United States forces attempted to force a passage through Echo Canon and had failed. We have had direct despatches from Col. Johnston of a later date, without any mention of such an attempt.

The Placerville Argus gives currency to a rumor about five Americans having been murdered in Salt Lake City. The only ground for this rumor, however, appears to be that the party whom these gentlemen accompanied were attacked by Indians, when a hundred miles from Salt Lake, and two of them escaped into Salt Creek settlement with the news. The Argus admits that its informant was certain the assailants were Indians, but that nevertheless it will believe they were Mormon butchers until the contrary is proved.

The Lecompton Message.

On our first page this week will be found Mr. Buchanan's Message, on the admission of Kansas with the Lecompton Constitution. We have not conversed with, or heard of, a single Democrat in this county who does not dissent entirely from the views and policy of the President. If there are any who agree with him, they are few and far between. No adherent, to the Democratic party who has faith in its principles, and a regard for its honor, can read this message without a feeling of mortification. It is an utter abandonment of the opinions and convictions, heretofore, and repeatedly avowed, and of pledges solemnly made to the people of Kansas, the Democratic party, and the country at large—Oshkosh Courier, (Dem).

So speaks one of the unpurchased Democratic papers of this State. Undoubtedly the Courier reflects the sentiments not only of the Democrats of Winnebago, but of the Democracy of Wisconsin, generally. However it may be with the party elsewhere, here the great majority repudiate the Lecompton Swindle, and refuse to take the new Democratic test oath.

"THE GUILLOTINE IN MOTION!"—The removal by President BUCHANAN, of the Post Masters at Chicago, Columbus, and other points—the victims being his own appointees—excites great sensation in Illinois and Ohio. The reason of this queer proceeding is not yet made public, but it is conjectured to be, the practical effects of the new Lecompton test. There is no telling how far the President may go in this work of "Reform;" but certainly he deserves all encouragement, inasmuch as his first appointments were generally bad ones, and those made under the operation of a "sober second thought" may be decided improvements. It is rumored that sundry Post Offices in this State, are to have a change of occupants shortly.

WELL DONE.—The appointment of Messrs. POTTER and WASHBURNE, two of our Representatives in Congress, as aids to Governor RANDALL, is one of the neatest little hits of the day. It is a quiet, but marked recognition, by the Executive of our State, of the manly bearing and spirited conduct of the gentlemen named, during the fracas in the House of Representatives on the 5th instant.

THE MADISON POST OFFICE.—There was a rumor about town yesterday that Geo. P. Thompson, of Cross Plains, had been appointed Postmaster of Madison. The Argus denies it, but evidently fears that it may be so. It says:

"It is possible that he may receive it, though no positive information has been received here upon the subject.

"If the appointment, if made, would be the greatest outrage that could be perpetrated upon the people of Madison."

So far from agreeing with the Argus, we know of few men better qualified to fill the Post Office than Geo. P. Thompson.—Madison Journal.

FOREIGN IMPORTS—SIGNIFICANT FIGURES.—Retrenchment continues the order of the day, it will be observed by the weekly statistics in the money column. The imports of last week:

Amounted to	$2,023,955
Corresponding week, 1857	7,494,070
Decrease in 1858	$5,468,115

The most remarkable falling off is visible in the dry goods item—thus:

Week ending Feb. 12th, 1858	$1,489,218
Corresponding week in 1857	3,890,929
Decrease in 1858	$2,451,711

The decrease is still more conspicuous if we compare from 1st of January to date:

From Jan. 1st, this year	$12,038,948
" " last year	32,473,584
Decrease	$20,384,689

That will do!—N. Y. Express.

Scenes in the House—Excitement on Lecompton.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 8.

The House of Representatives was the theatre of more profound feeling to day than I ever saw exhibited in its halls before, except on the occasion when the Great Adams sank down lifeless on its floor. I have witnessed more excitement, more thrilling scenes, more dramatic display, in its proceedings, and have often beheld it more wild and turbulent; but never have I before seen it when its members seemed so deeply impressed with the conviction that the People's House was deciding a question involving the future destiny of the Great Republic of the West.

Members repaired to their seats in the Hall at an early hour. Only six of the two hundred and thirty-four Representatives were absent. The galleries and passages of the Chamber were already thronged with a deeply interested mass of intelligence and beauty. The sharp rap of the gavel, as the clock tolled twelve, calling the House to order, was followed by a prayer befitting the momentous occasion. Instantly a hum of of anxiety and curiosity throbbed and thrilled through the vast crowd, rendering the reading of the Clerk's journal inaudible to a concourse who were eagerly awaiting a contest between Freedom and Slavery, which was to commence as soon as that formality had closed.

The usually shrill voice of the Speaker assumed a subdued tone as he announced the pending question, viz:

"Shall the main question be now put?" said the Speaker. "Ayes and Nays!" shouted a hundred voices. "All in favor of taking the question by ayes and nays will rise." A hundred Republicans and Democrats were on their feet ere half the words were out of the Speaker's mouth. "A sufficient number up—the yeas and nays are ordered, cried Orr."

And now commenced the calling of the roll—The responses on the Democratic side were watched by eager ears, while a hundred and more of quivering pencils kept tally. The Clerk called the roll with rare distinctness. As he reached the name of Mr. Clemens, of Va., that gentleman rose and said that he had paired off with Mr. Lawrence, (Douglas Democrat of Ohio,) till the arrival of the Baltimore train this morning. The usual hour for the arrival of that train having passed, he claimed the right to vote. He did so—responding "no."

The Clerk slowly read over the list of affirmatives and negatives, amid the profound silence of the Chamber, when, just as he was closing, in rushed Lawrence, dripping with perspiration, overcoat on and hat in hand, and addressed the Chair. A thousand eyes were instantly bent upon him—for, it was supposed that the result trembled in the balance, and his vote might turn the scale. He explained the delay in the arrival of the train, and asked the unanimous consent of the House to record his vote in opposition to that of Mr. Clemens, his pair. Two or three moans voices objected. Clemens, like a man, then stepped forward and asked that his vote be stricken from the roll—which was done.

The Chamber held its breath while the Speaker announced, "In the affirmative, one hundred and thirteen; in the negative, one hundred and seven. The ayes have it, and the main question is ordered."

Now there was much running to and fro on the floor. Long heads were put together.—Some Anti-Lecompton Democrats, whose knees were thought to be shaky, or their spines not of the stiffest sort, were drawn hastily into adjacent cloak rooms. SOME IMPORTANT PERSONAGES, NOT MEMBERS OF THE HOUSE, WERE THERE.—Ominous whisperings were hastily indulged in. One Democratic member was heard to say, with an emphasis which rather startled another Democratic member, "I don't care a d——n for the patronage of the Administration. I shall vote as I please!"

The calling of the roll went on. Two or three men at the close changed their votes. The hum of conversation on the floor sank to a silence painfully profound, and even the flirting of simpering simpletons ceased, as the Clerk handed an ominous little bit of paper to the Speaker. It trembled in Col. Orr's hand, as he announced, "In the affirmative, one hundred and thirteen; in the negative, one hundred and fourteen. The noes have it. The motion of the gentleman from Georgia is lost! The question now recurs upon the amendment of the gentleman from Illinois, to refer the message to a Select Committee of fifteen, with instructions."

Now, Babel broke loose. All sorts of ejaculations were uttered. "We've got 'em!" cried an ardent young gentleman. "The Slave Power is dead!" responded an enthusiastic lady.—"Sailing rather close to the wind," replied a grave man; "one is not a good working majority!" The reading of Harris' resolution was demanded by a score of voices. It was read, and the yeas and nays ordered amid such confusion that the gavel was put into repeated requisition to obtain sufficient silence for the Clerk to call the roll. I noticed that the excitement was chiefly on the Pro-Slavery side. The Anti-Lecomptonites having barely escaped defeat on the main question, and yet, having escaped it, sat calm and stern, awaiting the final issue. The result was, ayes one hundred and fourteen; noes, one hundred and eleven." So, THE PROPOSITION WAS ADOPTED BY A MAJORITY OF THREE. Harris, pale as ashes, but firm and steady to the moment of victory, rose, and in clear tones, said, "Mr. Speaker, I move to reconsider the vote just taken, and to lay that motion on the table." This is always the clenching motion at the close of a hard fought struggle—it requiring two-thirds to take such a motion from the table. The yeas and nays were again called, and Harris' motion prevailed.

So the hereditary Chivalry of the South was beaten, in pitched battle, by the Roundheads of the North, on a field where, for thirty-six years, they had won so many trophies.

Argument of the Habeas Corpus Case.

The argument of this case is very able and interesting. A report, giving a synopsis of it, down to the adjournment of the Court for dinner to-day, will be found in our columns.

Mr. Geo. B. Smith made a strong argument yesterday afternoon in favor of the prisoners.

Mr. Orton, on the part of the State, occupied the forenoon to-day, and made a powerful effort. It was, so far as we could judge, a complete refutal of the arguments of the opposite counsel, and a thorough vindication of the action of the Legislature. It was not only sound and logical, but eloquently expressed. Mr. J. A. Sleeper proceeded to close for the State, immediately after the Court came in this afternoon, and will be followed by Mr. Arnold. The case then goes to the Court, and a day or two more may elapse before the final decision.—Madison Journal, Feb, 18th.

WHO CAN TELL?—The employment of Messrs. Orton, Sleeper and Knowlton, by the state, to argue the writ application for a writ of habeas corpus in the supreme court, has suggested the query whether the attorney general of this state has any legal duties to perform. That officer has a salary and an assistant allowed him, and if he is not to be employed in a case like this, what in the name of common sense, is the use of him, his assistant, or his office? Who can tell?—Janesville Gazette.

The query is well put. If an Attorney General has nothing to do, or does nothing, we respectfully suggest to the Legislature the propriety of abolishing the office.

ANOTHER CONTEMPT CASE—EX-GOV. BARSTOW REFUSES TO ANSWER!—EX-GOV. Barstow was brought before the Assembly this morning for refusing to answer the investigating committee. No action was taken in this case. The House are awaiting the result of the present habeas corpus case in the Supreme Court.

We understand that Mr. Barstow was before the committee some days ago. He asked to be excused from answering them, on the ground that one of his children was sick. He then promised to answer at some future time, fully and completely, in regard to the matters of the investigation, and was excused. Yesterday he was again brought before the committee, and refused to answer. The future time to which he alluded to does not seem to have arrived.—Madison Journal.

MR. PRENTICE ON KEITT.—The Louisville Journal gets off the annexed commentary on the fight in Congress:

We see a good many comments in the papers upon the affair in the House of Representatives in which Mr. Keitt figured and was figured with so strikingly. Mr. Keitt certainly had the floor upon the occasion, and the floor had him, and the two were unmistakably entitled to each other. There seems, however, to be some little dispute as to whether Keitt fell by stabbing his toe, or was knocked down by an enemy, or pulled down by a friend.

One statement, apparently true, is that Keitt disappeared immediately after rising from the floor. Mr. Grow gained some eclat in the affair, and Keitt lost. Grow grew, and Keitt kited.

Keitt grasped Grow by the throat. He is not the first individual that had a downfall from being too grasping.

WELL EXPLAINED.—God made Washington childless, that a nation might call him father.—Can any one explain why God made Buchanan childless?—Ex.

That we might not look upon his like again.

Lake Shore Rail Road.

The following is a copy of a notice, which has been furnished to the New York Herald and Tribune.

NOTICE.—The recent attachment of the funds of the City of Milwaukee in New York, was caused by the refusal of the Milwaukee & Chicago Rail Road Company, to pay the interest coupons of certain of the Milwaukee City Bonds, loaned to said Company, which refusal was upon the ground, that they were the coupons of certain Bonds, which had been fraudulently obtained by the holder, and their payment had been forbidden by the parties claiming to be the true owner.

Funds for the payment of these coupons, are held by this Company, in readness to pay the same, whenever the rightful ownerships of the Bonds shall be determined. The whole amount of the coupons in question, is eleven hundred and fifty dollars.

These facts should be understood, in order that the matter of the attachment may not affect the credit of the City, or the Company.

O. K. WATKINS.
Late President of the M. & C. R. R. Co.
Milwaukee, Feb. 17th, 1858.

JUSTICE.—In a paragraph which we copied from the Waukesha County Democrat yesterday in relation to the recent robbery at Hale's Corners, is the following:

"There had been suspicion for some time that the Newells were pilfering about the neighborhood, and several were on the lookout for them."

A gentleman who is acquainted with the circumstances in this affair, and who is also acquainted with the Newells, thinks that this rather appears to implicate a number of respectable families, who although of the same name, and also relatives of the thief, are well-known to the people of the neighborhood, as good and honest citizens. Our Waukesha cotemporary undoubtedly, in speaking of the Newells as pilfering &c., only refers to the robber and his wife, although it might be otherwise understood by those not acquainted with the circumstances.

"THE PEN AND THE PRESS."—We do not know but Mr. John C. Prince may have written the excellent poetry which appeared in the Sentinel this morning, under this title; nor do we know but he may have requested the Sentinel to copy it, but if it was published under the impression that it was then seeing the light for the first time, it is a mistake. It is an old, familiar and favorite piece with the public.

This paragraph from the Free Democrat of Wednesday evening escaped our observation until yesterday.

We are not aware that the excellent poetry to which the Democrat refers, ever saw the light until it appeared in the Sentinel, neither is our friend from whom we procured it, although the contrary may be the case.

The poem, we are informed, was written in 1850, by an humble mechanic named John C. Prince. An intimate friend of his handed us a copy of it, which he took from the original manuscript, and requested us to publish it. He assures us that he has no knowledge of its ever having appeared in print before; neither have we, although we may be mistaken. About its authorship, however, there is no doubt.

A PROMISING SIGN.—The election of Mr. BOND, People's candidate for Alderman in the Fourth Ward, over JOHN MITCHELL, the "regular Democratic nominee," is a promising sign for the future. The election was vigorously contested, an unusually heavy vote polled, and every means used, by the News and other party organs, to make the issue purely a political one. But THE PEOPLE, mindful of the past, turned a deaf ear to these partisan pleaders, took the matter into their own hands, and gave Mr. BOND, who is a good and true man, a rousing majority.

THE CAMPBELL MINSTRELS—LAST NIGHT.—The excellent company of Vocal and Instrumental performers, known as Rumsey and Newcombe's Campbell Minstrels and Brass Band have given two of their attractive entertainments at Young's Hall, and give the third and last to-night. We think that, without exception, or exaggeration, this troupe is the best one that has yet visited our city. There is an unusual variety in their performances, and all are of the best quality. The singing, dancing, banjo playing, &c., are unusually good; the Brass Band is capital; and Master Bobby, the "infant phenomenon" of the company, takes the audience by storm. The programme for to-night, which is positively their last, in this city, includes a great many new and popular pieces.—They go hence to Madison, where they will perform Saturday night.

DEDICATION BALL.—Our Waukesha friends are making extensive preparations for a grand festival, upon the occasion of the dedication of Robinson's new Hall, which is to take place on the 4th prox. A large delegation from Milwaukee is expected, and also from other neighboring cities. The Waukesha papers assure us that it will be a fine affair, and that everything necessary for the comfort and enjoyments of the guests will be provided.

CIRCUIT COURT, FEB, 18th.—JUDGE MCARTHUR PRESIDING.—The Criminal Calendar for the present term, was taken up in the Circuit Court yesterday. In the case of the State of Wisconsin against Frederick Pannasch, indicted for embezzlement, the defendant was arraigned, and plead not guilty, although when arrested he acknowledged his guilt. Horatio Hains, indicted for larceny, was also arraigned, and plead not guilty. In the case of the State against Bridget Smith, who had been indicted for larceny in a dwelling, the jury returned a verdict of not guilty. In the case of the State against Samuel Colton, indicted for breaking into and entering a dwelling with intent to commit larceny, the verdict of the jury was also not guilty.

The case of the State against Susan Tuesdale, indicted on a charge of larceny, was proceeding in the afternoon.

POLICE COURT YESTERDAY.—Jacob Hoffman was fined $10 and costs for disorderly conduct.

John Hyland, for being drunk and noisy, was fined $3 and costs.

Martin Pholen, charged with being disorderly, was discharged.

Thomas Castello was fined $2 for leaving team unhitched.

Henry Rolfe, Charles Rinks, John Fisch, William Schultz, Frederick Klerk, August Warner, August Keller, and G. R. Walton, were arrested upon a charge of wilful trespass, cutting timber upon the lands of C. Johnson, and others, and their examination deferred to to-day, and defendants committed to jail in default of $100 bail each.

POETRY—AH.—We have received a number of poetical (?) effusions from a contributor to the "country press," with the request to "do with them as you please." We have done so.

GOLD PENS.—CHAS. A. HERTS & Co. have received a large consignment of gold pens from New York, which they offer at auction prices.

FREE LUNCH.—A free lunch is served up every morning at the Golden Gate Saloon, of ELIOT, East Water Street. The public are invited to come and partake.

THE GERMAN AND ENGLISH ACADEMY.—We are informed by Mr. KUHEN, Secretary of the German and English Academy, that the Milwaukee Ladies' Society have made a donation to said Academy, of $200; this amount being the net proceeds of the Masquerade Ball, given under the auspices of the Ladies' Society in aid of the Academy. The money will be applied to the redemption of a corresponding number of shares, issued to aid in the construction of the School House.

☞ It is understood in Washington, that Gen. Calhoun is preparing a statement to the public, relative to Kansas affairs. He asserts that he voted the Lecompton Convention for the submission of the entire Constitution to the people, but being defeated, he acquiesced in the proposition to submit only the Slavery clause.

NEW COUNTERFEIT.—The St. Louis Republican has been shown two bills of the denomination of $20 on the Edgar County Bank, Paris, Ill., raised from genuine ones.

☞ Whitesides, who was the first Speaker of the Assembly for this State, has been elected Speaker of the Lower House of California.

DISCREDITED.—The notes of the Tioga and Crawford County Banks of Pennsylvania are discredited by the Philadelphia brokers.

From the New Orleans Delta of February 6.

MAGNIFICENT SUGAR ESTATE DISPOSED OF.—The Houmas plantation near Donaldsville, lately owned by Col. John S. Preston, has been sold to John Burnside, Esq., head of the house of John Burnside & Co., of this city, for one million of dollars.

Mr. Burnside, in anticipation of his retirement from the great establishment of which he has so long been the head and life, as the close of the next business year, purchased this beautiful estate for his future home, where he can retire to enjoy independently, comfortably and satisfactorily, the princely fortune he has acquired in Louisiana by his talents, integrity, intelligence, and the practice of a generous liberality in the conduct of a widely ramified and most responsible commercial business.

The Houmas estate has a frontage of thirty-five miles on the Mississippi river, contains twelve thousand acres of the finest quality of cultivated land, and possesses a working force of five hundred and fifty slaves, most of them "native here and to the manor born," and is, without exception, take it all in all, the finest property possessed by any single proprietor in America.

THE GREATEST DISCOVERY OF THE AGE.—It seldom occurs, that we notice, under any circumstance, patent medicines, restoratives, or anything of the kind, for we have a prejudice against the use of them. But candor compels us to invite attention to the advertisement of Prof. Wood's Hair Restorative, in the last column, at the bottom of the third page of this paper.—We are too incredulous to receive anything of the kind, but some instances of its use have come to our knowledge, which almost assures us that it is a sovereign remedy against the hair becoming prematurely gray. It is not a "Hair Dye;" but upon its application a few days, the effect is produced on the skin, which brings out the original native colored hair, without sickness, and gives it a glossy and natural appearance. We have seen persons who have used it, and they are much pleased with it. Examine the advertisement.—Missouri Rep.

"The Whole Case" in Kansas.

As the News understands it, the "whole case' in Kansas, stands briefly thus :

"The Free State men claim, and we suppose rightly, to be a large majority of the electors in the Territory. If admitted with the Lecompton Constitution, they have the power, at any time, to change its provisions, and to abolish slavery. If, as is now conceded, they have elected a majority of the Legislature, a Convention can be called, and a new constitution submitted in lieu of that framed at Lecompton, before the close of the present year.

Of the power to change the organic law of the State at any time, through the proper forms, there is no longer any serious question."

Now, admitting for argument's sake, that the proposition of the News is correct, what justification does it furnish for the attempt, on the part of the President and his backers in Congress, to force upon the people of Kansas a Constitution to which the News itself concedes that a large majority of them are opposed? That the people of Kansas can and will, in some way or other, repair the wrong, may be true; but how does that excuse the wrong itself? When Wisconsin adopted her State Constitution, the prominent question was the "Bank Article."—Now suppose that the Convention which framed that Constitution, had decided to submit nothing but the Bank article to the people, and that the President and Congress had aided and abetted this outrage? Who would have justified such a breach of faith, on the part of the Convention, or so gross an invasion of Popular Rights on the part of Congress? In Kansas, the question assumes a far graver aspect; for amend the Lecompton Constitution as they will, the taint of Slavery is ineradicable. That instrument once adopted as the fundamental law of Kansas, and SLAVERY becomes irresistibly and forever one of the "domestic institutions" of the new State. No wonder, therefore, that the Free People of Kansas protest, in mass, against forcing upon them, with Federal bayonets, this Pro-Slavery Constitution. But it is a marvel that any Administration, any party, any press, or any man, wearing the livery and claiming the name of DEMOCRACY, should dare to stand up before the American People, as the instigator, the apologist, or the defender, of so monstrous and palpable a wrong.

But the News is lame even in the excuse which it furnishes for the contemplated outrage. The power of the People of Kansas to change their Constitution at any time, or in any way is not conceded by the "National Democracy." On the contrary, the Washington correspondent of the Philadelphia Press, a Democratic journal, asserts that, while some Democratic members hold that doctrine and are in favor of making a declaration to that effect, "prominent lawyers of the North, as well as Southern men, held to the belief, after mature consideration of the point, that such a declaration would amount to nothing practical; that for the people to attempt to alter their frame of government, as erected in their State Constitution, in any other mode than that which itself prescribes, would be revolution—peaceable revolution, but still revolution."

Of course, if the People of Kansas undertook to rid themselves immediately of the incubus of slavery, imposed by the Lecompton Constitution, the U. S. Supreme Court, that jealous and vigilant guardian of the rights, privileges and immunities of slave holders, would at once step in and arrest the process. They would declare against this right of "revolution," and the Federal bayonets would again be invoked to enforce this Pro-Slavery decree. There is no safety for Freedom in Kansas, if the Lecompton yoke be once fastened round the necks of her People.

The Southern Press on Northern Labor.

The Richmond South, an Administration paper, and a congenial ally of the News in this city, thus villifies the masses of Northern Freemen, who are not in favor of fostering and protecting Slave Labor at the expense of Free White Labor :

"To the greasy psalm-singer of the north, the truckling Yankee, the stupid, uncouth, unpolished Oliver; to the mongrel population of New York; to the heterogeneous mass of the northwest; to the German, the Dutchman, the Irishman; to whatever persons, from whatever clime; to all save the great, the gifted, the only pure representative of the great Anglo-Saxon family of the south, the whole territory of the union is free, is open; but to us and our institutions forever it is to be and remain a "terra incognita"—a paradise where we dare not tread—a paradise denied to the great southern family, but to be filled up and polluted with the human vermin, the toads, the unclean beasts, from all parts of the habitable globe, but that where man approaches nearest the form of his maker.

"It is the determined purpose of the northern hireling population to defraud the people of the slave states out of every foot of the common territory, without the slightest regard to the constitution of the United States, which they have not the capacity, either moral or mental, to comprehend, and with utter indifference to truth or to justice. The representatives of the hirelings of the north, collected from all portions of the globe, driven by the same blind passions as those that agitate the unthinking, untutored mind of the multitude that spins them—the bastard issue of its froth and fretted fume—will, if not checked by the firm wisdom of the south, drag the south with themselves down to a ruin that must and will infallibly end in a popular government without a constitution—the most horrid form of despotism known to human society. We trust the slave states will have the nerve, in time for the safety of human liberty in North America, to steer away from the northern whirlpool, and anchor constitutional liberty in a calmer sea."

PENNSYLVANIA AGAINST BUCHANAN.—Col. FORNEY'S "Press" contains an account of an Anti-Lecompton Democratic meeting held in Lycoming County, by the neighbors and kindred of Gov. PACKER, and says that the Gover nor "is with the overwhelming mass of the Democratic party against the Lecompton swindle," and that those "who desire a personal proof of his position can satisfy all their doubts by a visit to Harrisburg."

THE WIDOW OF COMMODORE PERRY.—Died in New York, Rhode Island on the 11 instant after a brief illness, Mrs. Perry, the widow of the late Commodore O. H. Perry. "This lady," says the Boston Transcript, "was widely known for her unassuming Christian character no less than as the widow of one so distinguished in our national history as her husband. Since his lamented death in 1820 she has resided in Newport, occupying the venerable mansion purchased by Commodore Perry at the close of the war of 1812. She had for a neighbor and friend the widow of the gallant Captain Lawrence of the Chesapeake, who is still living. The Rev. Dr. Francis Vinton of Trinity Church, New York, married a daughter of Mrs. Perry. The funeral services will take place in Newport on Sunday."

On the morning, at two o'clock, of the day of Mrs. Perry's death, and in the same town, died her husband's companion in the battle of Lake Erie. Capt. Taylor's death was occasioned by paralysis. He was seventy-eight years of age.

Protest Against Lecompton.

The Democratic Senators and Representatives who have refused to submit to the Lecompton test, and, at the bidding of Mr. BUCHANAN, sustain that infamous swindle, show no signs, as yet, of any backing down. On the contrary, their letters to different Anti-Lecompton Meetings, called in various parts of the country, breathe a spirit of determined and defiant resistance to this last and worst phase of Federal usurpation. Thus Senator DOUGLAS, writes to New York in the following strain :

WASHINGTON, Feb. 11, 1858.

GENTLEMEN :—I have the honor to acknowledge the receipt of your kind invitation to address the democracy of New York, on Friday night, in opposition to the effort being made to force Kansas into the Union with a constitution which the people of the territory have repudiated and rejected at a fair and valid election by more than ten thousand majority. The time has now arrived when the democracy of the whole country should hold meetings in the cities, towns and counties, and proclaim, in tones that will command respect, their devotion to and determination to sustain and carry out in good faith the great principles of self-government which lie at the foundation of all free institutions, and proclaim their determined and unyielding hostility to the consummation of a scheme so monstrous as to force a Constitution at the point of the bayonet down the throats of an unwilling people.

I regret that my public duties, as well as illness in my family, demand my constant attention here, and thus deprive me of the pleasure which I should otherwise enjoy in accepting your kind invitation.

I have the honor to be, very truly, your obedient servant, S. A. DOUGLAS.

In like defiant tones, Mr. HARRIS, of Illinois vindicates his course in the House of Representatives, and replies to the angry assaults of the President's hirelings. Writing to the Philadelphia meeting, he says :

"Those of us who think differently from the Administration upon this question, are stigmatized and abused by its hireling and plunder-gorged presses as renegades and demagogues.—We shall not be deterred from our course by any such slanders. We shall act up to our profession of Democracy, and abide by the doctrines of the Kansas-Nebraska act, and the Cincinnati Platform. I have not yet come to the belief of infallibility in those high in state, and whenever I cannot agree with them, I prefer to follow my own sense of right rather than to play the hypocrite to enjoy the smiles of power. I do not believe there are half a dozen members of Congress from the North who would go for the admission of Kansas, under this Lecompton Constitution, were it not that the President desired them to do so.

Firmness in an executive is a commendable quality. General Jackson possessed it in an eminent degree; but there was one peculiarity in all his positions—he always went with the masses of the people, never against them—hence he always triumphed. The masses of the people—the quiet, reading, unfanatical masses of the Democracy—are, with all their soul, their mind, and strength, unyieldingly set against this monstrous injustice contemplated in this Lecompton movement, and no executive, however popular, no politician, no statesman, however exalted, can satisfy them to endure or tolerate the outrage. They will hold to a fearful responsibility all such as sanction and approve this revival of ancient federalism, as applied to the government of Kansas.

Death of Veteran Printers.

More than forty years ago—indeed is is nearer fifty than forty—we were an Apprentice where all the Newspapers in this State were suspended, in line, attached to pieces of Wire inserted in the walls around the office. So familiar were we then, with the typography, paper and aspect of each, that even at this day we could recognize and identify most, if not all of them, from their general appearance, without being shown either title or imprint.

The Journals of that day had distinguishing peculiarities. The New York Columbian was printed on paper as blue as Indigo; while that on which the Orange County Patriot came forth was as yellow as Mrs. Skewton's curtains. The Evening Post was readily recognised by a Gallon's Head, the design of which was to guide Patients to that fountain of health over which Dr. Horn presided. There were no Pictorials, and but few Cuts, in those days. The Albany Register, therefore, was the admiration of children on account of a tall, upright Indian, with a head dress of feathers, a Rifle, and a Muskrat, who informed the public that Elisha Dorr paid Cash, and the highest price, for Furs, at his Store, in Court St. Albany. In most of the City Papers the people were informed that the Goddess of Fortune waited, with the utmost impatience, at the offices of the Messrs. Waite of New York, and of the Messrs. Allen of Albany, to shower gold into the laps of her votaries through the instrumentality of Tickets in Oswego Bridge or Union Lotteries, to be drawn under the auspices of Simeon De Witt and other officials. And throughout the State, its Journals rejoiced in standing Advertisements, garnished with staring capitals, and a bad illustration of a good Samaritan, celebrating the virtues of Leah Pills and Rodger's Vegetable Pulmonic Detergent.

Of all these, only the New York Commercial Advertiser and Evening Post, Catskill Recorder, Northern Budget, Lansingburgh Gazette, Schenectady, Cabinet, Ontario Messenger, Ontario Repository, Brooklyn Star, Republican Advocate, Batavia, Oswego Gazette, and Geneva Gazette, have perpetuity, even in name. Of the large Cities of our State, Brooklyn and Buffalo were then scarcely known as Villages, while Syracuse and Rochester did not exist even by name!—And of the Editors and Proprietors of the Journals of 1811, how few remain!

The venerable Thomas Walker, then Editor and Proprietor of the Columbian Gazette, Utica, and now President of the old Bank of Utica, may be styled the Father of the New York Press.—We gratefully remember, in him, an indulgent employer and kind friend in 1813. Francis Hall, of the New York Commercial Advertiser, ranks next to Mr. Walker in years, and second to none in professional and personal integrity and virtues. Our own represented townsman, Mr. Elisha W. Salmer, of the old Albany Gazette, is next in rank. With Azariah C. Flagg, widely known for his long and upright life of public usefulness, then Editor and Proprietor of the Plattsburgh Republican, and our esteemed friends Mix, then of the Montgomery Republican, and Fairchild, now of Canandaigua, but then Editor and Proprietor of a Paper in Chenango, the roll as far as our memory serves, has been called. Several boys, including Edwin Croswell, John O. Cole, Augustin G. Dauby, who were then, or soon afterwards learning the rudiments of the "Art Preservative of Arts," survive.—But James Watson Webb, William C. Bryant, Isaac Platt, and other prominent Editors of those times, are but comparatively modern inventions; while Greely, Cassidy, Willis, Raymond, Bigelow, &c., &c., (better if not older Soldiers) belong to the Juvenile class.

But we wander from our purpose, which was simply to record the Death, on the 3rd inst. at Milwaukee, where he resided for some fifteen years, of Parmelee Potter, who was Proprietor and Editor, as early as 1836, of the Poughkeepsie Journal, a paper which he conducted for nearly thirty years. He was a man of talents and energy, widely known and universally esteemed. He removed to Wisconsin simultaneously with B. F. Hallmadge, Dr. Judd and other prominent citizens of Dutchess.

The deceased was an Elder Brother of the Episcopal Bishops of New York and Pennsylvania, and had attained to his 78th year.

Norman Tuttle, another Veteran Printer, died at Troy, on Saturday. He was emphatically a working man, who—unlike as Journeyman or Employer, has stood "at case" for half a century! Mr. Tuttle was Proprietor of the Troy Sentinel, thirty years ago, when Orville L. Holley [who made his Editorial debut among us in 1816 as Editor of a Review in New York] was Editor. Mr. Tuttle was previously a Proprietor of the Albany Republican. We first knew him on the Albany Argus in 1816. He maintained throughout the character of an honest man and good citizen.—Albany Journal.

OPEN TO CONVICTION.—The Richmond South, in announcing "the defeat of the Administration," in the vote upon Mr. Harris's motion, takes heart and exclaims :

"But the black Republican-Douglas majority was so small that we are sanguine of ultimate success. Surely more than three men on the other side are 'open to conviction.' Of course our own friends will stand firm. We do not give up the ship."

"Open to conviction" means here susceptable of bribery.

A SAD MIS-STEP ON THE THRESHOLD OF LIFE.—The case of Chas. Albaugh, who was this afternoon sentenced to the penitentiary for three years, is a sad one. He is quite a young man the son of highly respectable parents at Mt. Gilead, and but a fortnight since was married to a young lady of one of the first families in that place. He had been employed to carry the mail from Mt. Gilead to the railroad, about two miles distant. Frequent complaints of mail robberies in that direction had been made, and decoy letters were sent by Special Mail Agent Prentiss, resulting in the arrest of young Albaugh, on the 28th of last month. Judge Wilson took his youth and the circumstances of the case into consideration when he fixed the term of punishment. Three years in the Penitentiary! What a beginning of life for a young man who but a few days before had linked an estimable young girl's destinies with his!—Cleveland Herald.

The La Crosse and Milwaukee R. R.

The N. Y. Tribune of Monday last, states that the Transfer Office of the La Crosse & Milwaukee R. R. Company will in future be at No. 47 Exchange place, New York; and that the Chief Office will be at Albany, under the immediate supervision of the leading directors and proprietors. The same paper contains the following elaborate and interesting notice of the Report just published by the Board of Directors :

We have received an advance copy of the forthcoming report of the La Crosse and Milwaukee Railroad Company—the first made by the new management. The reports appears to be a candid and thorough statement of the condition of the Company, without any attempt to cover up its unfavorable features, and discloses the results of mismanagement and incompetency almost without a parallel in the railroad history of this country. Originally this was, without question, one of the most promising railroad projects ever presented to the public. The route was an extremely favorable one, with important feeders, and running through a fertile and well-settled country. The portion of it between Milwaukee and Beaver Dam was built on liberal terms, and the receipts yielded fair dividends on its cost, while its extension to the Mississippi promised to be equally profitable, and to command the trade of Minnesota and the North-West—The ambition to do too much was the rock upon which the managers split. The land grant made by Congress to Wisconsin was the great object of their desire. Its profitableness was largely overestimated, they obtained it at large cost, their securities declined, the Company became embarrassed, and the financial ruin stated in the report before us was the result. Within the past year the Road has passed into new hands, and under the Presidency of Mr. Stephen Clark of Albany. The new managers have been industriously occupied in endeavoring to free the Company from its most pressing embarrassments, and have been, to a considerable extent successful. They hope to succeed entirely, so far as to complete the Road to the Mississippi at La Crosse whence very large through traffic will be thrown upon it, it being the most direct route from the northwest to the East. To effect this and thus render the other portions of the road profitable, a contract has been made with Mr. Chamberlain to build 44 miles of road from New-Lisbon to La Crosse, and the means have been provided from the remainder of the four million issue of Land Grant Bonds. The report gives the annexed awful statement of the stock and liabilities of the company.

Included in the above are $617,630 of stock and bonds issued as collaterals. In September, the managers, in order to secure the continuance of work upon the line of the Land Grant Road, and the payment of arrears to the contractor for six hundred thousand dollars, executed a lease of the road to him, and permitted a judgment for the arrears to be entered. In December, a contract was made with Mr. Chamberlain to complete the Rord from New-Lisbon to the Junction, by which 307,200 acres of land would be secured. Of this amount, the Company have already received from the Governor a certificate for 230,400 acres. The Land Grant Trust has been reduced to $4,000,000, including the road between Portage and the Mississippi River and the lands. The lease to Mr. Chamberlain provides that the earnings of the road shall first go to pay the interest on the mortgage debt, and for the sinking fund on the Eastern Division; say in all $198,980. The surplus applies upon his judgment. The earnings upon the road West of Portage are to be applied in the first case to the interest on the Land Grant Bonds, and the surplus to the judgment.

"This," says the report, "it will be seen, leaves the Company without a dollar of income to meet the interest on the Farm Mortgage Bonds, the unsecured bonds, the maturing obligations of the Company or even the current necessary expenses of the agents and officers, whose time and efforts are so necessary to the work. No resources for these objects are now left, except what may be saved from the securities pledged as collaterals and from such claims as may be established upon securities and property now beyond the control of the Board. The earnings of the road, although not equal to the sanguine expectations heretofore laid before the public, are still indicative of ample returns upon the capital it should have cost. We do not entirely concur in the sanguine estimates of the value of the lands donated for this work, which have been set forth in the former; but while this is the case, we have entire confidence that when the road is completed, these lands will be found a most important element in giving security to the bond holders and remuneration to the stockholders for their sacrifices in accomplishing this result."

The net earnings of the road for the year ending 30th June, 1857, were $202,258 69, to be applied to interest. The net earnings for the six months ending 31st Dec., 1857, were $144,951 49. The report says :

"These results, though not so favorable as previous estimates, afford ample assurances that when the road reaches the Mississippi, and thus becomes the outlet of the whole North-West, its friends will not be disappointed in their confident assertions, that it must prove one of the most productive, per mile, of any in the United states."

The entire length of completed road is 188 miles, leaving 62 miles to be finished to the Mississippi. The report says :

"In referring to the causes that have produced the present embarrassments of the Company, it cannot be disguised that the Land Grant itself, so eagerly sought, has by the exposures of the contest for its possession, contributed very largely to the result. Of the liabilities incurred, the following may be traced directly to this source :

1. Construction Bonds of 1852, issued for charter expenses, $1,000,000
2. Construction Bonds of 1857, issued for the purchase of the St. Croix and Lake Superior Railroad Co., 1,000,000
3. Stock issued for charter expenses at Madison, 90,000
4. Consolidation Bonds issued for stock in the M. and W. Railroad Company, and for "service" in and about the Consolidation, 210,000
5. Notes issued by B. Kilbourn, President, to the Madison and Watertown Railroad, 150,000
6. Capital Stock sold in New York in 1856, at 80@75 ₰ cent, to pay the debts of the Watertown Railroad, 600,000

"In making provision for the dividend of July 1, 1857—for the interest upon the Construction Bonds of 1852, and for the interest upon the Land Grant Bonds of Aug. 1, 1857—the subscribers to the Land Grant Bonds having to a large extent failed to meet their installments, more than $1,100,000 of the stock and securities of the Company were pledged for loans falling due in November, December and January last, and were sacrificed by the inability of the Company to meet these loans at maturity. The pressing wants of the Company have also led to other sacrifices, which nothing but the salvation of the Company from its extreme peril could justify. But those sacrifices are now ended, and we cannot imagine a state of things to arise, which can justify a renewal of these expedients."

The Board have taken steps to recover the million of bonds issued to the St. Croix and Lake Superior Company, and two hundred thousand dollars of bonds loaned to the Minnesota and Pacific Rail Road Company, which never reached the treasury of that Company. In conclusion, the managers say :

"That having undertaken the task of attempting to save the property of the Company at the solicitation of the friends of the road, in the hope, on their part, that we might succeed in carrying the work to the river at La Crosse, we have gone forward with those objects only in view. So far as the Eastern members of the Board are concerned, they entered into the direction entirely uncommitted to any line of policy, with no pledges to protect, or favor any one interest, or one set of creditors, bondholders or stockholders more than another, but to be guided solely by their convictions of what might be the best for all interests when the conditions and wants of the Company were thoroughly understood. If we have failed in protecting the interests of the Company, whose agents and representatives were made, the time is at hand when the stockholders will have an opportunity to give us leave to retire from their service."

☞ Within the last four years, says the Rochester Democrat, over one hundred persons have been convicted in the U. S. Court for the Northern District of New York, for counterfeiting, forging Pension papers, and violating the Post Office laws. This shows that crimes against the laws of the United States are very frequent, and furthermore that the prosecution of such criminals, although involving quite a large outlay of money, generally results in their conviction and punishment.

☞ Two men, Joseph Sparks and Oscar Flint were assailed in the suburbs of Baltimore a few nights ago by a gang of shoulder-hitters. Flint was knocked down and robbed, but his comrade escaped by flight. When the scoundrel hit first, Sparks flew.

THE MASTER'S SONG.

Written for St. John's Lodge of Free Masons.

BY GEORGE P. MORRIS.

Members of an order
Ancient as the earth;
All within our border
Breathe its worth.
Gentle is the principle
That awaits us there,
On the level meeting,
Parting on the square.
Like the workmen olden,
Who our craft design'd,
We the precept golden
Ever bear in mind.

Mirrors never falter,
We each other know,
As a child, at mother's altar,
Hand in hand we go;
Loud hosannas singing
To our Source Above,
And heart offerings bringing
To the God of Love.
Like the workmen olden,
Who our craft designed,
We the precept golden
Ever bear in mind.

There's a mystic beauty
In our working plan,
Teaching man his duty
To his fellow-man:
As a band of brothers,
Ever up and true,
We so up, o others
As we'd have them do.
Like the workmen olden,
Who our craft designed,
We the precept golden
Ever bear in mind.

LONG LIFE.

Count not thy life by calendars; for years
Shall pass o'er thee by unheeded, whilst an hour,
Some little deeding hour, too quickly past,
May stamp itself so deeply on thy brain,
Thy latest years shall live upon its joy.
Thy life is longest; not whose bones are gums,
Dank eyes, wan cheeks, and snow-white hairs bespeak
Life's limits; no! but he whose memory
Is thickest with the holiest deliverances
'Tis sweet to ponder o'er whenever it falls.

Hon. G. A. Grow.

We do not remember to have ever seen the following sketch of the political career of Hon. G. A. Grow, until meeting with it, in the Boston Dea. It will be read with interest.

Mr. Grow was born in Windham County, Connecticut. His parents emigrated to Northern Pennsylvania while he was yet a child. His father died when this son was but three years of age, leaving his family in reduced circumstances. An elder brother aided the subject of this sketch in obtaining an education, and he was graduated at Amherst College, Mass. at the age of twenty-one, in the year 1844. In the fall of 1850 he was first elected to Congress by a singular accident in politics. The Democrats of the district were divided, and had two candidates in the field, each claiming to be the regular nominee. Eight days before the election, both agreed to resign if Mr. Grow would be the candidate. He had left his law office the fall before by reason of ill health and was spending the summer, working on a farm, plowing, pealing bark and surveying. He was waited upon in his retirement by a friend of each candidate, as a committee, to ascertain his feelings. They found him with a set of hands on the public highway, rebuilding a bridge that had been carried away by a freshet. He acceded to their proposition to be a candidate for Congress, and both the other candidates resigned, and a Convention was called, which placed Mr. Grow in nomination just one week before his election.

He was elected by 1,250 majority, and in 1851 took his seat in the House of Representatives, the youngest member of the Thirty-second Congress, and, with one or two exceptions, of the Thirty third Congress also. He is now serving his fourth term in Congress. The second time he was elected by 1,600 majority; the third time by the unanimous vote of the district, he having received the unanimous nomination of all parties, for his able and manly resistance to the passage of the Kansas Nebraska bill; the fourth time he was elected by a larger vote than he received, when he had no opposition. His district, previous to the repeal of the Missouri Compromise, gave uniformly about 2,500 Democratic majority, but in consequence of the noble stand taken by Mr. Grow on the floor of Congress, and upon the stump before the people, his district gave Colonel Fremont almost 10,000 majority. When Gov. Banks was running for Speaker of the House, he was urged to allow his name to be used as a candidate, but he declined the honor for himself, and urged his friends to stick to Banks, which advice was followed, and by which the first decisive battle against the slave power was achieved.
